The Writers Circle In-School Workshops

Teen Writers Circle (Middle/High School)

This workshop balances inspiration with discipline, teaching students to accept critique, revise thoroughly and work toward story completion. We delve into story elements like plot, character, pacing, point of view and style, inviting students to explore any genre they choose. Teens may write anything from reality-based to fantasy and science fiction, plays, poetry, memoir, essays and much more. Teens will find ease and confidence in their writing by honing their skills in a creative, nurturing environment.
