The Writers Circle In-School Workshops

Historical Fiction (Middle/High School)

In this workshop, we invite students to take a step into the past, utilizing research and their imaginations to envision life at a specific place and time in history. We will discuss world-building, anachronisms, the role of research and how it applies to developing character, conflict and more. Students will be enticed to immerse themselves into the past in a creative and compelling way.

This workshop meets all or part of the following core curriculum standards:
